About Us

Welcome to FromTheFarm.com – the first online farmers market to offer consumers premium agricultural products shipped directly from family farms across the country.

We launched this Online Farmers Market in 2008 to provide the freshest, high-quality and best-tasting products available. From fruits and vegetables to fish, meats and cheese, our 24-hour online store offers convenient shopping day or night. From the Farm also features hard-to-find specialty food items and incredible values on fresh-cut rose and floral arrangements.

One of the joys of shopping at farmers markets is getting to know the grower who carefully nurtures, then hand-picks and packs those luscious peaches, tree-ripened pears and colorful heirloom tomatoes. These growers sell their products with pride and most often include a few tips about how to store and prepare their beloved items. You leave satisfied knowing you've purchased fresh, nutritious products picked at their peak of flavor and ripeness, and that you've helped support your community farmers – all at the convenience of being in your own home.

FromTheFarm.com was designed to mirror the flavor, quality, service and grower commitment found at traditional farmers markets. We at FromTheFarm.com both come from several generations of family farmers, so we know what freshness and quality tastes and looks like. What's more, we use our decades of experience in produce buying, shipping and inspecting to search out top growers who can provide the finest items available throughout the country.

FromTheFarm.com cuts out the middle man to enable farmers to literally pick and pack your order to arrive at your doorstep just a few days later. Shipping directly from the farm provides fresh, nutritious foods that typically have a longer shelf life. On our Online Farmers Market, we'll introduce you to the farmers who produce your foods – you can be confident knowing that all of our growers adhere to a strict food safety program. We also include recipes and storage and handling tips for delicious at-home results.

Every FromTheFarm.com order is backed by a 100% quality guarantee. Take a look around our market, pick a favorite item or try something new and unusual. Once you taste our products, you'll experience the true meaning of from-the-farm flavor. You can also feel good knowing that your purchase helps support family farmers. Let us know what you think – we want your feedback. Dorell Keiso and Dean Davis
